

Title : Community Camp

Objective:

- To foster social awareness and promote proactive engagement in environmental conservation initiatives
- To avoid excessive phone use and mobile addiction

Context:

The majority of GDRCT students are going to rural areas to create awareness among the local population about important issues: taking care of our environment and managing mobile phone use. We see littering and pollution harming our surroundings, and we're also concerned about how much time people spend glued to their screens.

The practice:

Students are getting a chance to showcase their skills, and it is also beneficial for the community. They are getting exposure to how they can counsel people.

Evidence of Success:

- The employability of students has improved.
- Better understanding various aspects of the nature, and environment.

Problems Encountered and Resources Required:

- Lack of awareness about environmental issues like pollution and deforestation. Overuse of mobile phones leading to decreased physical activity and social interaction. Difficulty in engaging the community in activities promoting environmental conservation and responsible mobile usage.
- Educational materials on environmental conservation and mobile addiction. Speakers or experts to lead workshops on environmental awareness and digital well-being. Outdoor space for activities such as tree planting, clean-up drives, and sports.
